Kids Get Into the Act at Playhouse

Creative dramatics classes for kids has proven a hit at the Hermosa Beach Playhouse. Increased enrollment has caused the opening of two new sections. The classes for children, 8 to 12 years of age, are held on Saturdays from 9 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. A special class for teens is held Wednesdays, 3:30 to 6:30 p.m.
Don Stubbs, as instructor, incorporates training in voice production and personality development.
Enrollment is for a three-month period ending in a public performance at the Playhouse.
Registration details may be obtained by calling FR 6-9127.

Rehearsals Move Ahead

your hands. Touch your head. Touch your foot. Shake your foot. Shake your hand. Big. Count: one, two, three. Small!"
Response from the children and parents has been quite good, but considerably more study is needed before any such district-wide program would be considered.
Nation-wide, foreign language instruction in elementary is a relatively new idea. It is estimated that some 300,000 elementary children in 44 states had some school instruction in foreign language last year. A few California districts have tried this plan, with Spanish most commonly taught.
At several other Torrance schools, various methods are under study.

Parkway School, for instance, has three teachers who give their children some Spanish in addition to regular reading, writing, arithmetic and other subjects. Keith Deeds, John Lankford and Dan Alvich, all of whom have good Spanish backgrounds, use mimeographed instruction sheets to help their children "habla Espanol." Several other teachers also have teachers who offer Spanish, French or German in class.

At several schools, extra-curricular clubs are offered for students who are interested and enrollment has been good. For instance, Riviera School has four separate language clubs: a Latin Club led by Mrs. Elizabeth Aubrey; a Spanish Club under Miss Susan Waters; a French Club taught by Robert Simon; and a German Club sponsored by Mrs. Kay Loftus. The German Club frequently also uses the help of a former government interpreter and Riviera parent, Mrs. Gae Tanza.

At the Torrance Elementary School, Mrs. Elaine King has a group of 30 students enrolled in a club which has studied some of the fundamentals of both German and Spanish this year. The club is designed to give eighth grade students an idea of what they will find in high school language courses.
Many more classes have a little study of foreign words during social studies units on South America or Europe.
Torrance school officials have applied for federal funds to allow more study in foreign languages on an elementary level. Much of the most modern and proved equipment is rather expensive.

All four high schools offer Spanish, French, German and Latin. In addition, South High School is trying an extra-curricular class in Russian this year.
